CONTINUOUS INTERNAL EVALUATION (CIE)

The Continuous Internal Evaluation (CIE) system at the college ensures consistent assessment throughout the academic term. It encompasses various indicators such as internal assessments through assignments and viva-voce. Apart from this, tutorials, moot court exercises (MCE), and paper presentations is in practice for CIE. These activities collectively contribute to a comprehensive evaluation of students' understanding and progress.

Initially, in A.Y. 2018-19 the evaluation process for each subject was based on a 100 marks external evaluation. In the academic year A.Y. 2018-19, as per Ordinance no. 5082 and Ordinance no. 4435, stating that the performance of the students shall be evaluated by the examinations conducted at the end of the semester, where the Practical Training Papers will be conducted by the College. As such these Practical Training papers formed a part of the Continuous Internal Evaluation (CIE) including paper presentations, moot court exercises and classroom discussions.

In the A.Y. 2019-20, the college adopted the Choice Based Credit and Grading System (CBCS) as mandated by the University, shifting to a 60:40 evaluation pattern. Under this system, 60 marks per subject were assessed through University level examinations, while the remaining 40 marks were determined via Continuous Internal Evaluation (CIE). In A.Y. 2019-20, the evaluation process included both internal and external assessments. Under the 60:40 pattern, 40 marks were allocated through the CIE process, which involved Practical Training Papers assessments at College level including paper presentations, written assignments, moot court exercises and viva-voce examinations and 60 marks were assessed externally at the University level.

However, this changed again in the A.Y. 2022-23, moving to a 75:25 evaluation pattern. In this new system, 75 marks per subject are assessed through University level examinations, and 25 marks are evaluated internally through CIE. Starting from A.Y. 2022-23, 25 marks are assessed through the CIE, including one periodical test worth 10 marks conducted within the semester, and the remaining 15 marks based on subject-specific assessments such as submissions, paper presentations, moot court exercises and viva-voce. For clinical papers, evaluations are conducted internally, with records of activities submitted as part of the subject's requirements.

UNIT I:

INTRODUCTION

1.1 NEED FOR ACADEMIC REFORMS IN INDIAN HIGHER EDUCATION

Higher education today, especially in the Indian context has assumed major importance. Although operating one of the largest systems of higher education in the world and despite the fact that India is a much favoured destination for education especially among the developing countries, there are frequent concerns about the quality of education imparted and its overall impact on the country's nation building process. Particularly under attack is the resistance to bring about long term academic reforms in the system. Among the various lacunas in the system is the absence of a comprehensive national framework for facilitating mutual give and take of the academic programmes offered by the different higher education providers in the country.

With 'twinning programmes' and 'joint degree' initiatives as well as 'study abroad' programmes gaining increased momentum in several parts of the globe, the importance given to 'mobility of learners' and the need for offering flexible curricular choices to them, it has now become necessary to take a serious re-look at the system and introduce reforms wherever possible.

1.2 RECOMMENDATIONS OF NATIONAL EDUCATION REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

• The University Grants Commission (UGC), the National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC), the Distance Education Council (DEC) and even the National Knowledge Commission (NKC) have time and again come out with recommendations for improving the quality and effectiveness of Higher education provisions in the country. The ministry of Human Resource Development at the Central level and the Ministry of Higher & Technical Education, Govt. of Maharashtra have also repeatedly stressed on the need for universities to pay prompt attention to some of the weaknesses that plague the system and undermine its very credibility. An important concern voiced more strongly in recent times, is the need to develop a Choice-Based Credit System (CBCS) in tune with global trends and the adoption of a sound grading system for reflecting learner performance. To quote Shri S. K. Tripathi, former Secretary, Dept. of Secondary and Higher Education, Ministry of Human Resource Development, Govt. of India, "..... The demand for socially relevant, economically productive, globally competitive, culturally sustaining and individually satisfying programmes that cater to the needs of the present times is fast

[Signature]
I.C. Principal
Sanjay Prasad Education Society's

growing. The constraints of pursuing programmes and participation in pre-determined combination of subjects pose rigidities not in keeping with the demands of the changing times.... There is today a need for a fully convertible credit-based system acceptable to other universities.

Recommendation of the UGC in its

Action Plan for Academic and Administrative Reforms

(Ref. UGC letters January 2008; March 2009)

"..... Curricular flexibility and learners' mobility is an issue that warrants our urgent attention. These can be addressed by introducing credit based courses and credit accumulation.

In order to provide with some degree of flexibility to learners, we need to provide for course duration in terms of credit hours and also a minimum as well as a maximum permissible span of time in which a course can be completed by a learner... The Choice-Based Credit System (CBCS) imminently fits into the emerging socioeconomic milieu, and could effectively respond to the educational and occupational aspirations of the upcoming generations. In view of this, institutions of higher education in India would do well to invest thought and resources into introducing CBCS. Aided by modern communication and information technology, CBCS has a high probability to be operationalised efficiently and effectively — elevating learners, institutions and higher education system in the country to newer heights...".

The National Knowledge Commission (NKC) under the chairmanship of Mr. Sam Pitroda, in its report to the Prime Minister on 29th November 2006) has also reiterated the importance of Higher education and the contribution it has made to economic development, social progress and political democracy in independent India. However, the Commission has also pointed out to a "serious cause for concern" at this juncture. According to Mr. Pitroda, " .... it is important for us to recognize that there is a quiet crisis in higher education in India which runs deep. And the time has come to address this crisis in a systematic, forthright manner. .... There is today a need for a transition to a course credit system where degrees are granted on the basis of completing a requisite number of credits from different courses, which provides learners with choices...."

1.3 AT THE GLOBAL LEVEL

Sanskar Sarjan Education Society's
D.T.S.S. College of Law,
Kurar Village, Malad (East),
Mumbai-400097.

All the major higher education providers across the globe are operating a system of credits. The European Credit Transfer System (ECTS), the 'National Qualifications Framework' in Australia, the Pan-Canadian Protocol on the Transferability of University Credits, the Credit Accumulation and Transfer System (CATS) in the UK as well as the systems operating in the US, Japan, etc are examples of these.

1.4 THE CONCEPT OF CBCS IN BRIEF (Choice Based Credit System)

While explanations of the several terms related to the development of a Choice-Based Credit System are given later, it is important to know that CBCS essentially implies a redefining of the curriculum into smaller measurable entities or 'modules' with the hours required for studying/learning these- not 'teaching' - being at the primary focus and the development of a mechanism whereby these modules can be combined in different ways so as to qualify for a Certificate, Diploma or Degree. In a sense, therefore, the completion of a single 'Module' of learning can pave the way for learning other modules either in the same institution or elsewhere and a combination of modules in keeping with the needs and interests of the learners illustrates the much talked about 'cafeteria approach' to learning with the Learner at the centre stage of all academic transactions.

1.5 RATIONALE FOR INTRODUCTION OF CBCS

The UGC while outlining the several unique features of the Choice-Based Credit System (CBCS) has, in fact, given in a nutshell, the rationale for its introduction. Among the features highlighted by the UGC are:

- Enhanced learning opportunities,
- Ability to match learners' scholastic needs and aspirations,
- Inter-Institution transferability of learners, Part-completion of an academic programme in the institution of enrolment and part-completion in another affiliated or recognized institution,
- improvement in educational quality and excellence,
- Flexibility for working learners to complete the programme over an extended period of time,
- Standardization and comparability of educational programmes across the country, etc.

Some of the specific advantages of using the Credit system as outlined in the available literature on the topic are as listed below:

Advantages of the Credit System

- Shift in Focus: Represents a much-required shift in focus from teacher-centric to learner-centric education since the workload estimated is based on the investment of time in learning, not in teaching.
- Recognition of the Learners' Work-Load: Helps to record course work and to document learner workload realistically since all activities are taken into account - not only the time learners spend in lectures or seminars but also the time they need for individual learning and the preparation of examinations etc.
- Helps self-paced learning. Learners may undertake as many credits as they can cope with without having to repeat all the courses in a given semester if they fail in one or more courses. Alternatively, they can choose other courses and continue their studies.
- Flexibility to the Learners: It allows the learners to choose inter-disciplinary courses, change majors, programmes, etc.
- Respects 'Learner Autonomy': It allows learners to choose according to their own learning needs, interests and aptitudes.
- Makes Education More Broad-Based: One can take credits by combining unique combinations. For example, if a learner is studying music, he/she can also simultaneously take a course in Business Management.
- Facilitates Learner Mobility: Offers the opportunity to study at different times and in different places, Credits earned at one institution can be transferred to another.
- Helps in working out twinning programmes:
- Is beneficial for achieving more transparency and compatibility between different educational structures.

1.6 SCIENTIFIC APPROACH TO IMPLEMENTATION

Any institution desirous of working out a comprehensive Credit system needs to adopt a systematic approach that handles most, if not all the aspects that need attention. Introducing the Credit system without adequate policy formulation and clear implementation guidelines is quite likely to encounter problems that are dealt with through ad hoc decisions. Such decisions may have long-term consequences which cannot easily be set right.

Mumbai-400097.

Care has to be taken to see that the learner, who must be the ultimate beneficiary of the system, does not suffer academically because of absence of procedures or lack of adequate attention to detail when evolving the system. Apart from the fact that any form of injustice caused to the learner - the ultimate 'consumer' in the educational process - can lead to legal issues, the lack of a comprehensive approach may affect the key features like curricular flexibility, learner autonomy and learner mobility that are central to the system. The following major steps should, therefore, be taken by any higher education provider wanting to introduce the Credit System. The steps given herein apply to both to the annual pattern as well as the semester pattern. These have been grouped into two categories viz. steps to be taken at the programme level, involving a micro-approach and steps to be taken at the institutional level, involving a somewhat macro approach.

A] At the Programme level

1. Specify for each academic programme considered at the Certificate / Diploma / Degree level (Undergraduate or Post-graduate level), the programme structure (core courses, optional courses, etc and their year wise distribution if applicable), entry level requirements, minimum and maximum duration for successful completion, programme objectives, teaching-learning strategies (number of teaching hours/lecture hours, tutorial hours, practical conduct hours, etc involved) and evaluation components (nature and number of assignments, tutorials, tests, etc.) for the entire programme. Identify also the modules / courses that may be studied either as part of the programme or may be taken up independently.
2. Given the syllabus to be considered under each course included in a given programme, specify the objectives of each course.
3. Break up the syllabus of each course into smaller components called 'Units' and state the Specific Learning Outcomes (SLO) for each Unit.
4. By and large, in a given year consider that on an average a learner may undertake courses totaling between 30 to 40 Credit Points (Taking into consideration that 1 Credit Point is equal to approximately 30 hours of study.)
5. Considering the nature of content to be studied for each course, number of lectures / practicals to be conducted and the evaluation components to be completed under each course, distribute the credit points among the different course components of the programme to be completed in a given year. As a thumb rule, each course should normally be in the range of 4 to 6 Credit Points.

Sanskar Sarjan Education Society's

Kurur Village, Masid (East),
Jumla-400007.

6. Allocate the course wise credits based on an estimate of the number of hours that would be required by an average learner to fulfill the basic requirements of the course including time spent on attending lectures, preparing for all the evaluation components, etc.(Learning hours).
7. Credits should also be allocated to all the units included within a given course – for compulsory or core courses as well as elective courses.
8. Credits should also be allocated to project work, thesis, industrial placements, etc where these components are a part of a degree programme.

B] At the institutional level

1. Programme wise catalogues should be prepared in detail for all the academic programmes offered by the institution. Apart from basic information regarding admission procedure, fees to be paid, eligibility criteria, academic calendar and overall programme structure, each catalogue should contain other details like course choices available (Optional Papers available in the college), course wise syllabi and learners' workload (the time learners typically need to achieve the learning outcomes), expressed in terms of credits.
2. In addition to programme wise catalogues, certain other key documents will also be required viz. the Learning Agreement and the Transcript of Records in order to assist the process of Credit accumulation and Credit Transfer from one programme to another or from one institution to another.
3. An internal Coordination Committee should be established to handle all matters related to the implementation of the Credit System. Apart from assisting in inter-departmental coordination, this Committee should also look into matters like inter-institutional credit transfer arrangements and course equivalence with the assistance of the concerned departments/officials from the university.

1.7 GENERAL CONDITION FOR USE OF CBCS

There are general recommendations for the development and implementation of a Choice Based Credit System as follows

1. It is always advisable that credits are allocated on a "top-down" basis. The starting point should be the full programme taken into account and then one should move on to assigning credits to the constituent courses. Allocating credits to individual course units on a "bottom-up" basis may result in complications that are difficult to handle.

Principal
Sanskar Sarjan Education Society's
D.T.S.S. College of Law,
Kurar Village, Malad (East),
Mumbai-400097.

2. The use of decimals in course-wise credit allocations (e.g. 4.85 credits) should be avoided. To the extent possible, unit-wise credit allocations should be limited to the use of half credits.
3. Although credits may be allocated on a unit-wise basis for computational purposes, they should only be awarded to learners who successfully complete the qualifying criteria for an entire course. In other words, learners should not be given credits for partial work completed for a given course like submission of assignments or attendance at tutorials, etc.
4. The mere existence of a facility for credit transfer should not by itself be a sufficient condition for making it available to the learner. The learner wanting to avail such a facility should apply for the same in a prescribed form with a certain 'processing fee' and also with adequate substantiating and properly authenticated documents accompanying his application.
5. In cases where in two or more institutions desire to give joint degrees / diplomas, a Memorandum of Understanding should be signed specifying the particular responsibility of each partner in the Alliance and the operational modalities involved properly documented.

UNIT 2:

BASIC CONCEPTS

2.1 OVERVIEW

In the last Unit, we have studied the rationale and advantages of introducing the Choice Based Credit System for any institution of higher education. While there is complete consensus among educationists and policy-makers about its need and importance, there is relatively less clarity about operationalising the system. The development of any comprehensive Choice-Based Credit System pre-supposes that there is complete conceptual understanding of the associated terms and their interpretation. These terms must not only be understood uniformly by all those using the system, but must also be well documented so as to facilitate provisions for learner mobility between two or more academic programmes within a single institution or across educational institutions within and outside the country. A review of the Credit Systems operating in many parts of the globe does indicate some nationwide variations in terms of the numerical values assigned to a single Credit Point, but the conceptual meanings of the related terms remain uniform across the board. In this Unit, an attempt has been made to explain some of the concepts that are central to the Choice-Based Credit System. The reader is advised to apply some of these terms in his/her own context and refine his/her understanding of the same.

2.2 KEY TERMS (Terminology)

2.2.1 Programme:

A Programme is a set of courses that are linked together in an academically meaningful way and generally ends with the award of a Certificate or Diploma or Degree depending on the level of knowledge attained and the total duration of study. For example, Diploma Course in Intellectual Property Rights, LL.B., LL.M. etc. would be called as 'Programmes' at the Certificate, Diploma, Degree and Post Graduate Degree level respectively. Over the years, most of the Universities have been using the term 'Course' to indicate what is meant here by 'Programme'. In order to use common nomenclature, therefore, let us refer to LL.B., B.L.S., LL.B., B.B.A.-LL.B., LL.M. as Programmes, and not Courses.

2.2.2 Course:

A 'course' in simple terms corresponds to the word 'subject' used in many Universities. A course is essentially a constituent of a 'programme'.

conceived of as a composite of several learning topics taken from a certain knowledge domain, at a certain level. All the learning topics included in a course must necessarily have academic coherence, that is, there must be a common thread linking the various components of a course. A number of linked courses considered together are in practice form a programme.

2.2.3 Module and Unit:

A course which is generally an independent entity having its own separate identity, is also often referred to as a 'Module' in today's parlance, especially when we refer to a 'modular curricular structure'. A module may be studied in conjunction with other learning modules or studied independently. While it is a common practice to treat a single course as an independent module, there are instances where in a single 'Unit' or a Topic within a course is treated as a Module. If this Unit can operate as a single separate entity, it may be called a 'Module'. Structuring the entire curriculum of a programme helps to provide a lot of flexibility and choice for the learner. He can then work out his own combination of courses as per his own inclinations.

2.2.4 Credit Point:

This has a reference to the 'Workload' of a learner and is an index of the number of learning hours deemed for a certain segment of learning. These learning hours may include a variety of learning activities like reading, reflecting, discussing, attending lectures, counseling sessions, writing assignments, preparing for examinations, participating in Legal Aid activities etc. Generally, a system of assigning Credit Points (CP) for a single course is practiced in most countries across the globe. Credits assigned for a single course always pay attention to how many hours it would take for an average learner to complete a single course successfully. The fallacy of assigning credits to a course purely based on how many lectures needs to be avoided. Although there is no hard and fast rule regarding how many credit points a single course should have, by and large a course may be assigned anywhere between 3 to 8 credit points.

2.2.5 Credit Completion and Credit Accumulation:

Each module of an academic programme that has been assigned specific credit points also has a certain scheme of learner evaluation as well as certain specific criteria defining successful completion. Credit completion or Credit acquisition may be considered to take place after the learner has successfully cleared all the evaluation criteria with respect to a single course. Thus, a learner who successfully completes a course having 4 Credit Points may be considered to have collected or acquired 4 credits. His level of performance above the minimum prescribed level (viz. grades / marks obtained) has no bearing on the number of credits collected or acquired. A learner keeps on adding more and more credits as he completes successfully more and more courses. Thus he 'accumulates' course wise credits.

2.2.6 Credit Bank:

The process of accumulating Credits over a period of time, leads to the idea of a 'Credit Bank'. Conceptually, a Credit Bank in simple terms refers to stored and dynamically updated information regarding the number of Credits obtained by any given learner along with details regarding the course/s for which Credit has been given, the course-level, nature, etc. In addition, all the information regarding the number of Credits transferred to different programmes or credit exemptions given may also be stored with the individual's history. In short, like a regular Bank, this would involve maintaining all the Credit-related transactions of an individual. Credit Banking, when practiced would go a long way in facilitating credit transfers and learner mobility.

2.2.7 Credit Transfer:

Apart from maintaining an account of credits acquired by a learner over a period of time for a wide range of courses, the main idea behind implementing the credit system is to make provision for learner mobility. Credit Transfer means that credits earned at one institution for one or more courses under a given programme are accepted under another programme either by the same institution or another institution. In practice this means that it is accepted that a certain chunk of learning has already been successfully completed by a learner. This acceptance of earlier acquired credits may be reflected in one of two ways:

- (i) Direct Performance Transfer, or
- (ii) Course exemption.

Kurur Village, Malad (East),
Mumbai-400097.

2.2.8 Performance Transfer:

When a learner who has successfully completed a certain academic programme, is allowed to transfer his past performance to another academic programme having some common courses, performance transfer is said to have taken place. In such cases, the grades or marks obtained by the learner in the common courses of the earlier completed programme are reflected unchanged in the new programme. Thus for example, if two academic programmes have three common courses, the grades (or marks) in each of them would be reflected in the same way when considering the new academic programme.

2.2.9 Course Exemption:

Occasionally, two academic programmes offered by a single university or by more than one university may have some common or equivalent course-content. The learner who has already completed one of these academic programmes is then allowed to skip these 'equivalent' courses when registering for the new programme. He is then 'exempted' from 're-learning' the common or equivalent content area and from re-appearing for the concerned examinations. It is thus taken for granted that the learner has already collected in the past the credits corresponding to the exempted courses.

2.2.10 Block Transfer:

This refers to a group of courses, such as a completed certificate or diploma programme that are accepted for transfer of credit into a degree programme.

2.2.11 Shelf Life:

This has a reference to the time duration for which the content of a given course is relevant and is directly linked with the obsolescence of knowledge in a certain field. Some institutions have time limits for granting credit transfer. Courses with a short 'shelf life' are most common in areas such as Computer Science and Information Technology where dynamically updated curriculum is essential.

2.2.12 Transfer Agreement:

This is an agreement that may be made between two institutions (a sender and a receiver) that specifies how the sending institution's course or programme will be accepted (for transfer of credits) at the receiving institution.

2.3 DIMENSIONS OF CREDIT TRANSFER

Sanskar Sarjan Education Society's
D.T.S.S. College of Law,
Kurar Village, Sakard (Bapat),
Mumbai - 400097

Credit Transfer may be conceived of as operating along two planes: lateral (or horizontal) and vertical. When an individual having successfully completed the courses included in an academic programme at a certain level, is allowed to transfer his achievement in some of these courses to another same-level academic programme having these courses in common, this may be referred to as 'Horizontal or Lateral credit transfer'. This would mean in practice that credit transfer takes place between two certificate level programmes, two diploma level programmes, two degree-level programmes or two post-graduate level programmes. For example, a learner completing his B. Sc (Computer Science / Electronics) degree from Pune University may seek Horizontal / Lateral Credit Transfer for the common courses while securing admission to the B.C.A (Bachelor in Computer Applications) programme in the same university. 'Vertical credit transfer', sometimes referred to as 'Career Laddering' may be said to occur when an individual's performance in some courses within a certain academic programme at a particular level is carried over to a higher-level academic programme having these or equivalent courses in common. Making a provision for 'upward mobility' of the learner is the rationale behind this dimension of credit transfer. An example of this would be when in a conventional university, a learner completing a Diploma programme in Engineering gets direct admission to the Second Year in an Engineering degree programme, the credits obtained by him in the Diploma Programme should be brought over to the Degree Programme.

2.4 TYPES OF CREDIT TRANSFER

Besides the fact that credit transfer may operate along either of the two above-mentioned planes, it may also be seen as being of one of two types: intra-institutional or inter-institutional.

When the process of credit transfer takes place within a university or institution, it may be called intra-institutional credit transfer; on the other hand, when the credit transfer process operates across two or more institutions, this may be viewed as inter-institutional credit transfer. Both inter-institutional / intra-institutional credit transfer may operate across levels vertical or horizontal. Thus, the following four possible combinations of credit transfer emerge:

2.4.1 Intra-Institutional Lateral Credit Transfer:

This would be illustrated if there is movement from one Diploma/Degree to another at the same level in the same or related field within the same university.

2.4.2 Intra-Institutional Vertical Credit Transfer:

An example of this is seen in the case of a learner from Mumbai University who after completing a 3-year Diploma in Computer Science from MSBTE, gets admission directly to the Second year of the B. Sc. (IT) programme.

Principal
Sankar Sarjan Education Society's
D.T.S.S. College of Law,
Kumbh Village, Matad (East),
Mumbai-97.

2.4.3 Inter-Institutional Lateral Credit Transfer:

This would be illustrated in all cases of learners moving from one university to another for doing academic programmes at the same level viz. two different Diplomas or two different Degrees, etc.

2.4.4 Inter-Institutional Vertical Credit Transfer:

This is best illustrated if a learner who completes one year of the Bachelor of Law /Science programme at say, Babasaheb Ambedkar Marathwada University, Aurangabad gets admission directly to the Second year of the degree programme at Mumbai University subject to such conditions as required to complete the courses in Mumbai University in the previous programme years.

By and large, when implementing the different types of Credit Transfer as stated above, a simple thumb rule would be to directly reflect the grades/marks obtained for one or more courses that have been successfully completed for all cases of Intra-institutional Credit Transfer.

On the other hand, a convenient way to handle cases of Inter-Institutional Credit Transfer would be to grant Course Exemptions for the common or equivalent courses.

2.5 ISSUES TO BE ADDRESSED

Even though there are institutions as well as universities in the country that have implemented a Choice-Based Credit System, it must be recognized that there are issues that need to be handled through appropriate policy guidelines so as to ensure smooth implementation. Some of these are stated in the following.

- Need for using a common nomenclature e.g. 'Programme', 'Course', for all the academic offerings of the university.
- Arriving at a common meaning of the term Credit in strict numerical terms.
- Extent of content equivalence expected between two or more courses before considering them for credit transfer arrangements.
- Amount of permissible time lapse between the successful study of certain courses and the admission to courses/ programmes for which transfer is sought.
- Degree of 'openness' vs 'restricted entry' (like for instance, stipulating a minimum achievement level) to be exercised when considering vertical credit transfer.

H.C. Principal

- Need to evolve uniform definitions of terms like 'Certificate', 'Diploma' and 'Degree' level programmes, both in terms of hours of study generally required as well as depth of content to be covered.

- Proportion of the total number of courses to be studied under a new programme that may be given the benefit of past collection of credits. (i.e. maximum number of credit points that may be considered under Credit Transfer at any given point of time for a given programme level.

These and other issues when worked out in detail will lead to the formulation of a full-fledged Credit Transfer Policy document that must be evolved by any university desirous of introducing the Choice-Cased Credit System. To sum up, it may, therefore, be emphasized that merely expressing courses offered in terms of Credit Points is not adequate for implementing the Choice-Based Credit System. Rather, a comprehensive exercise taking into account all the major implications of the system from the point of view of the learner must remain at the core of all activities in this regard.

UNIT 4

INTRODUCTION OF THE GRADING SYSTEM IN UNIVERSITY OF MUMBAI

4.1 INTRODUCTION

The intellect, physique, emotions, ethics and aesthetics are some of the aspects of the learner's personality. Each of these aspects is complementary to one another and therefore it is necessary to pay attention to the simultaneous development of each. A well designed evaluation system attempts to integrate all these aspects, with due attention to their relative importance in the context of any given academic programme.

The examination system has its existence since time immemorial. It has also been recognized as one of the most debatable features of the Indian education system since nearly half a century. The magnitude of the problems associated with Examinations has been growing at an alarming rate and it has in fact become one of the biggest challenges for the academic administrators and policy makers to create a transparent, fair and objective system that is self sustaining. Unfortunately, although recommendations regarding Examination Reforms have been made from time to time, nothing substantial has yet appeared on the scene by way of implementation.

Curriculum design, teaching-learning and evaluation are the three important parameters of the educational system. The relationship between them is intimate and Evaluation plays an important role so that any improvement in this parameter automatically results in the improvement of others. Several commissions & committees had been constituted in the past to deliberate on the issue of Examination Reforms. One of the major recommendations made by all these Commissions and Committees is the introduction of the Grading system in place of the marking system.

4.2 WHAT IS GRADING?

The word Grade is derived from the Latin word gradus, meaning step. Grading, in the educational context is a method of reporting the result of a learner's performance subsequent to his evaluation. It involves a set of alphabets which are clearly defined and designated and uniformly understood by all the stake holders. A properly introduced grading system not only provides for a comparison of the learners' performance but it also indicates the quality of performance with respect to the amount of efforts put in and the amount of knowledge acquired at the end of the course by the learners.

4.3 ENCUMBRANCES TO EVALUATIONS REFORMS

The issues related to examination and evaluations do not have any state or national boundaries, but are global in nature. It is accepted by all the stakeholders that our educational system is examination ridden. The declaration of examination results with award of marks and class has become of paramount importance for all the stakeholders in the system. In many cases, once the results are out, there is no scope for improvement in marks or performance improvement. This results in a lot of learners being deprived from further opportunities. In spite of the repeated regulations and reminders from the UGC and similar continuous follow up from the state government to implement some reforms in the examination system, the fact remains that most universities and higher education institutions have not adopted the same.

Some reasons for the delay in implementation of reforms in the academic and examination system are as follows:-

- 1) Unfortunately, a large section of the society suffers from inertia and is, therefore, reluctant to accept any change.
- 2) The new system which is planned for implementation has not been clearly explained.
- 3) Most of the teachers, academic administrators and community at large are inattentive to the intricate technicalities of examinations which affect their reliability, validity & objectivity.
- 4) There are vested interests that perpetuate the existing practices.
- 5) Additional time is required to prepare proper guidelines and manuals so as to enable the various stakeholders in understanding the new system.

4.4 DEFICIENCIES IN THE TRADITIONAL MARKING SYSTEM

Learners' Evaluation is the process of collecting, analyzing and interpreting performance by the individual learner or a group of learners for the purpose of making the decision of achievement level. The prevailing practice of evaluation of learners that has been in existence since long involves evaluating the performance of an individual or group of individuals at the end of an academic year within a stipulated time. The learners are often required to express their understanding of the content included in their curriculum for a complete semester within a span of three hours and their efforts over the year are often completely ignored. The present system of evaluation also does not provide for the application of multiple techniques of assessment of the learner's performance in a valid and reliable way. The current practice of awarding numerical marks for reporting the performance of learners suffers from several drawbacks and is a source of a variety of errors. Further, the problem gets compounded due to the variations in the marks awarded in different subjects. The 'raw score' obtained by the learner, is, therefore, not a reflection of his true ability.

Our aim to assess the learner's true ability is not being served by the current practice of evaluation. Excellence in quality education can be achieved by evaluating the true ability of the learners with the help of continuous evaluation. Some deficiencies in the present marking system are listed as follows:-

- 1) A difference of one mark is an unrealistic indication of difference in ability. Calibrating learners on a 101 point scale (0 to 100) as required in the marking system cannot be objectively achieved.
- 2) The score of zero which is artificially created for the convenience of the user does not represent zero ability; so also the score of hundred does not reflect perfection in performance.
- 3) Marks tend to be unreliable as a consequence of subjectivity due to inter and intra examiner variability.
- 4) The magnitude of the subjective errors in marking is reported to vary from ten to twenty five (10-25) percentages.
- 5) Marks obtained in the examinations are considered as the yardstick of the quality of performance which is very sacrosanct for the society, thereby the true talent, potential and the work put up by him is ignored.
- 6) The marks awarded by examiners are often affected by many factors such as unfair means, erratic marking, and subjectivity of the examiners, etc.
- 7) It is unfair to label a learner as 'pass' or 'fail' on the basis of such unreliable evaluation.
- 8) The 'pass' or 'fail' system often results in promoting corrupt practices besides being discriminatory.

4.5 ADVANTAGES OF GRADING SYSTEM

In view of the deficiencies mentioned above, it is desirable that the marking system used for the declaration of results is replaced by the grading system. According to the grading system, learners are placed in ability bands that represent a range of scores. These ability bands may vary according to the number of categories for the classification of the performance of the learners. This ability range may be designated with alphabetical letters called as GRADE. The system of awarding grades would provide a more realistic picture of learner's ability than the prevailing marking system.

However, before we go in for the introduction of grades in place of marks, let us be very clear about one thing. Each method of reporting learner performance –marks or grades has its own set of problems and limitations. However, this should not prevent the efforts to use a more scientific and reliable system so as to minimize the shortcoming and difficulties. Due to the superiority of the grading system over the conventional marking system, several premier institutions and universities of high repute in India as well as abroad have introduced it successfully. There are several advantages of the grading system; some of them are listed below:

- 1) Grading is a far more satisfactory method than the numerical marking system as it reflects an individual learner's performance in the form of a certain level of achievement in relation to the whole group of learners.
- 2) The Grading system ensures natural classification in qualitative terms rather than quantitative terms since it expresses a range /band of scores to which a learner belongs such as O, A, B etc....
- 3) The award of grades provides a permanent record of the learner's growth and development that might be helpful for institutions of higher education for allocating seats for prospective employers.
- 4) It may be very helpful for the institutions itself in making a kind of decisions pertaining to placement and promotions.
- 5) Grading does not require making fine distinctions in performance when no such distinctions actually exist.
- 6) It is based on a realistic concept of 'errors of measurement'.
- 7) Grades are relatively free from extraneous factors like difficulty of the examination, examiner bias, nature of the subject being examined.

Principal
D.T.S.S. Education Society's
D.T.S.S. College of Law,
Kumbh Village, Malad (East),
Mumbai-400097.

- 8) Grades can be interpreted easily and directly and can be used to prepare an accurate 'profile' of a learner'.
- 9) The system of assigning Grades as opposed to giving Marks will help the creation of healthy competition among learners since the rat race for obtaining marks will be eliminated. This will indirectly contribute to relieving the learners from undue tension and pressure that may occasionally lead to suicides, trauma, etc.

4.6 THE TEN POINT GRADING SYSTEM

Grading may be carried out in a variety of ways. The classification of grades depends upon the reference point. Grading may be classified in terms of direct grading and indirect grading when the reference point is 'Approach', whereas it can be classified as Absolute and Relative grading when the reference point is 'Standard of judgment'.

When the performance exhibited by the examinees is assessed in qualitative terms and the impressions so obtained by the examiners are directly expressed in terms of letter grades, it is called, 'Direct Grading'.

When the performance displayed by the examinees is first assessed in terms of marks and subsequently transformed into letter grades by using different modes, it is called, 'Indirect Grading'.

The method that is based on a predetermined standard which becomes a reference point for the learner's performance is called 'Absolute Grading'. This involves direct conversion of marks into grades irrespective of the distribution of marks in a subject. This method of grading has several advantages such as, the procedure is simple and straightforward to use, each grade is distinctly understandable, the learner has the freedom to strive for the attainment of the highest possible grade and it enables the learners to know their strengths and weaknesses. The limitations in this method are that the distribution of scores is taken at its face value regardless of the errors of measurement creeping in due to various types of subjectivity. Besides, the cutoffs of different categories are also arbitrarily decided.

The University of Mumbai vide its circular bearing No. UG/79 of 2016-17 dated 14th October 2016 laid down that, the 10 point Grading System prepared by the Special Committee constituted for the purpose at its meeting held on 1st September 2016, has been accepted by the Academic Council at its meeting held on 30th September 2016 and that in accordance therewith, the following Scheme for the uniform 10 point grading system from the Academic Year 2016-17 be implemented.

Marks	Grade Points	Grade	Performance
80 & above	10	O	Outstanding
70 to 79.99	9	A+	Excellent
60 to 69.99	8	A	Very Good
55 to 59.99	7	B+	Good

45 to 49.99	5	C	Average
40 to 44.99	4	D	Pass
Less than 40	0	F	Fail

Note: - Consider 1 Grade Point is equal to Zero for CG calculations of failed learner/s in the concerned course/s.

4.7 CONVERSION OF MARKS TO GRADES AND CALCULATIONS OF GPA (Grade Point Average)

In the Credit and Grade Point System, the assessment of individual Courses in the concerned examinations will be on the basis of marks only, but the marks shall later be converted into Grades by some mechanism wherein the overall performance of the Learners can be reflected after considering the Credit Points for any given course. However, the overall evaluation shall be designated in terms of Grade. The abbreviations and formulae used are as follows:-

4.7.1 Abbreviations and Formula's Used:-

- G: Grade
- GP: Grade Points
- C: Credits
- CP: Credit Points
- CG: Credits X Grades (Product of credits & Grades)
- $\Sigma$ CG: Sum of Product of Credits & Grades points
- $\Sigma$ C: Sum of Credits points

$$CGPA = \frac{\Sigma CG}{\Sigma C} \text{ for all semesters taken together.}$$

SGPA: Semester Grade Point Average shall be calculated for individual semesters. (It is also designated as GPA)

CGPA: Cumulative Grade Point Average shall be calculated for the entire Programme by considering all the semesters taken together.

While calculating the CG the value of Grade Point 1 shall be consider Zero (0) in case of learners who failed in the concerned course/s i.e. obtained the marks below 40.

After calculating the SGPA for an individual semester and the CGPA for entire programme, the value can be matched with the grade in the Grade Point table as per the Seven (07) Points Grading System and expressed as a single designated GRADE such as O, A, B, etc....

4.7.2 Illustrations of Calculation:-

The illustration for the conversion of marks into grades in theory & practical, if any in individual courses are as shown below:-

1) Pass in all the courses with more than 40 marks in the Semesters:

Courses in Semesters	Marks * Obtained	Grade	Grade Points(G)	Credits(C) per Course	$\Sigma CG = (C \times G)$	SGPA = $\Sigma CG / \Sigma C$
Course- I	55	B+	7	4	28	152/20 = 7.6
Course- II	60	A	8	4	32
Course- III	70	A+	9	4	36
Course- IV	80	O	10	4	40
Course-V	40	D	4	4	16

ACADEMIC CALENDAR

The college prepares its Academic Calendar based on the Terms of Arrangement received from the University of Mumbai. This calendar serves as a detailed schedule outlining the start and end dates of each semester, ensuring students and faculties are well-informed about the academic timeline. It provides a structured framework for academic activities, thereby highlighting the celebration and observation of various National and International Days. These events are integral to fostering a culturally enriched environment, promoting awareness and appreciation of significant historical, social, and global milestones among students. The Academic Calendar also includes a schedule for guest lectures, ensuring that students have opportunities to gain insights from experts across diverse fields. These lectures complement the formal curriculum, offering practical perspectives and enhancing the overall educational experience. The Academic Calendar is structured per the University's term schedule, but flexibility is maintained to accommodate unforeseen events and incorporate new activities for students. By comprehensively specifying these elements, the Academic Calendar ensures that the college operates smoothly and efficiently. It helps students, faculty, and staff to plan and prepare adequately, contributing to a well-organized and enriching academic environment. This proactive approach reflects the college's commitment to providing an over-all and structured educational experience.
